"HASTY HEART" HAS FAMILIAR FACES IN CAST

The cast of characters for the for the Exchange club-sponsored play, "The Hasty Heart," to be presented by the Allenberry players next Wednesday night in the high school auditorium, includes several names familiar not only to Adams countyans who patronized the summer theater at Allenberry, near Boiling Springs, but actors who have won wide success with other play groups.

"The Hasty Heart" deals with a stubborn Scot soldier who is determined to live out his few remaining weeks in a Greta Garbo "I Want to

Ann Dearing

Be Alone" fashion, and the efforts of his fellow hospital patients to change his outlook.

Hazen Clifford, new juvenile of the Allenberry company, will be seen as Lachie, the dour Scot. Heading the group of soldiers of all nationalities who are Lachie's ward mates is Jack McCarrell, who plays a Yank. Mr. McCarrell, assisted by David Brubaker, as an Australian; Henry Walden, as a New Zealander; Gerald Terry, a Cockney, and Howard Crouch, an African tribesman, do their best to make Lachie feel at home.

Lone Feminine Role

Ann Dearing has the lone feminine role, that of Sister Margaret, a nurse, who provides a few tender, romantic interludes for the scrubbish Lachie. Theodore Field handles the part of the colonel in charge of the hospital and Lee Williams rounds out the cast as an orderly.

Brubaker was called "The finest actor I have ever seen on any stage" by a Harrisburg newspaper critic. He has been acting since 1943, when he did his first role as Bing in "Brother Rat," a Green Room production at Franklin and Marshall (Continued on Page 6)

By RELMAN MORIN
Tokyo, Oct. 14 (AP)—American troops seized Kuchon today in a rearing battle on the south-eastern approaches of Pyongyang, the Korean Communist capital. It rammed a steel lid over an estimated 20,000 trapped Reds.

On both the east and west coasts of central Korea's narrow waist, Allied carrier planes raked fast disappearing Red targets. But there was no further word on the big task group led by the battleship Missouri which smashed supply lines from Soviet Siberia on Korea's east coast Thursday and Friday.

Other Areas Quiet
Except for the U. S. First Cavalry Division's capture of Kuchon—the steel cork on Communists bottled up southwest of Pyongyang—there was a drought in reports of ground action.

But there seemed no question that the Korean war was in its final phases. General Douglas MacArthur flew from this Japanese capital to his rendezvous with President Truman at Wake Island—scene of a gallant stand by a small band of U.S. Marines early in the Pacific war.

The President and United Nations commander are expected to discuss implementation of the U. N. directive for a unified, independent Korea and the problems of containing Communism in the rest of Asia.

"The Trap Is Closed"
Shortly before MacArthur's plane landed at Wake, Maj. Gen. Hobbart R. Gay of the first cavalry announced the capture of Kuchon, a communications center 11 miles north of Parallel 38. One of the cavalry spearheads smashed eight miles north of Kuchon to Hanpo, 65 miles from the Red capital Kuchon is 70 air miles southeast of Pyongyang.

"The trap is closed," said Gay. "They will not get out any tanks, guns or vehicles."

Gay expressed surprise at the number of tanks the Reds produced for the battle on three sides of Kuchon. Nine were knocked out. Several days ago, in commenting that "these cookies are beaten," Gay said the Reds had only small arms, mortars and land mines.

At Hanpo, the Americans were astride the Reds' main escape route to the north. But Gay conceded that some enemy soldiers might slip out of the trap. It didn't seem likely that too many would get out. The South Korean First Division was driving northward on the American right flank and was 4½ miles northeast of Kuchon.

He called attention to the postal provisions to avoid possible embarrassment to organizations and individuals acting in ignorance of the law and without knowledge of committing a violation.

Mr. Oyer quoted postal regulations as follows: "Wherever knowingly deposits in the mail, or sends or delivers by mail any letter, package, postal card or circular concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme offering

"HASTY HEART" HAS FAMILIAR FACES IN CAST

The cast of characters for the for the Exchange club-sponsored play, "The Hasty Heart," to be presented by the Allenberry players next Wednesday night in the high school auditorium, includes several names familiar not only to Adams countyans who patronized the summer theater at Allenberry, near Boiling Springs, but actors who have won wide success with other play groups.

"The Hasty Heart" deals with a stubborn Scot soldier who is determined to live out his few remaining weeks in a Greta Garbo "I Want to

Be Alone" fashion, and the efforts of his fellow hospital patients to change his outlook.

Hazen Clifford, now juvenile of the Allenberry company, will be seen as Lachie, the dour Scot. Heading the group of soldiers of all nationalities who are Lachie's ward mates is Jack McCarrell, who plays a Yank. Mr. McCarrell, assisted by David Brubaker, as an Australian; Henry Walden, a New Zealander; Gerald Terry, a Cockney, and Howard Crouch, an African tribesman, do their best to make Lachie feel at home.

Lone Feminine Role

Ann Dearing has the lone feminine role, that of Sister Margaret, a nurse, who provides a few tender, romantic interludes for the stubborn Lachie. Theodore Field handles the part of the colonel in charge of the hospital and Lee Williams rounds out the cast as an orderly.

Brubaker was called "the finest actor I have ever seen on any stage" by a Harrisburg newspaper critic. He has been acting since 1943, when he did his first role as Bing in "Brother Rat," a Green Room production at Franklin and Marshall.

WARNS AGAINST SENDING CHANCE BOOKS BY MAIL

Organizations planning to conduct lotteries, sell "chance" books or offer prizes, the winning of which depends in any way upon lot or chance, will have to find some means other than the United States mails for their transmission and distribution.

Organizations have, in the recent past, probably unwittingly and without knowledge of the postal regulations, sent such "chance" books through the mails. Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler today pointed out the provisions of the law.

He called attention to the postal provisions to avoid possible embarrassment to organizations and individuals acting in ignorance of the law and without knowledge of committing a violation.

Quotes Regulations

Mr. Oyler quoted postal regulations as follows: "Whoever knowingly deposits in the mail, or sends or delivers by mail any letter, package, postal card or circular concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar scheme offering prizes in whole or in part upon lot or chance."

GHS Whips Waynesboro 26-2; Dick Miller Scores Four TDs

Stalled repeatedly during the early stages of the game, the Gettysburg high school football team scored late in the second period and then went on to record a 26-2 victory over Waynesboro high in a South Penn conference game here Friday night before a comparatively slim crowd of nearly 2,000 fans.

Dick Miller, Warrior halfback, had a field day for the locals as he accounted for all of the local touchdowns.

Late in the second quarter Dale Hoffman intercepted a pass and reached the Waynesboro 7-yard mark. Following a penalty on a backfield-in-motion play, Bill Singley passed to Bill Heyser on the 1 from where Miller bucked over for the score with about 20 seconds to go. Davis' placement for the point was wide.

In the third period Miller intercepted a Waynesboro pass and streaked 35 yards, aided by some fine blocking by his teammates, to hit pay dirt after four minutes had elapsed. After a bad pass nullified his kick attempt for the point, "Soapy" Davis ran the ball over for the point.

Block Tornado Punt
A blocked punt on the last down was recovered by Staley on the Waynesboro 23 and set the stage for the second Gettysburg tally, Miller plowing through the line from the 13 to score. The attempt for the point was smothered due to a bad pass from center.

"Soapy" Davis set the stage for the final Warrior tally in the last period when he intercepted a pass by Stitley on his own 30 and streaked 63 yards before being dropped on the 7-yard mark. On his second try Miller hit center from the 2 to tally. Davis converted on a placement boot.

Waynesboro's two points came on safety when Goodermuth stepped beyond the end zone boundary on a punt with approximately 45 seconds of play remaining.

Fumbles were frequent throughout the contest, several times stalling would-be threats by both teams.

In the opening period Gettysburg threatened when Bob Sanders recovered a Waynesboro fumble on the visitors' 34 but after two straight first downs the Tornado braced to take over on the 10.

Twice in the second period the Warriors recovered fumbles deep in enemy team but on each occasion failed to capitalize. Early in the round Dale Hoffman pounced on a loose ball on 30 and a short time later Harriel recovered on the 32.

Waynesboro put up a scrappy game against the Warriors but was simply outclassed. Time and again the Warrior forward wall broke through to halt the Tornado ball carriers.

Halted By Fumbles
The visitors had their best scoring chance late in the final period when a fumble was recovered on the Gettysburg 10 but the locals were equal to the occasion and took possession on the 8. The safety then took place on Goodermuth's kick.

After Gettysburg was forced to kick following the safety, Stitley whipped a long pass to Shank for a first down on the Gettysburg 20 as the game ended.

All of the Warrior players turned in nice performances with honors going to Davis, Cleveland, Sanders and Staley on the line while Bucklew, subbing for Williams, and Miller stole the show for the backs. Stull was outstanding for Waynesboro.

The victory marked the first South Penn victory for the locals and their third win against two reverses. The setback was the fourth in as many starts for Waynesboro.

Next week Coach Shoemaker's lads play at Shippensburg.

MARINES RAID PANTHER SQUAD

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (P)—If the football opponents of the University of Pittsburgh have an easy time with the Panthers the remainder of the season, they can give the United States Marines credit for running interference.

Coach Len Casanova, former Santa Clara mentor who took over at Pitt this season and has seen his team lose two consecutive games, is a picture of despair today.

He has plenty of reason. The Marines are taking his men almost as fast as he can drill them in the intricate T-formation he brought along from the west coast.

The Marines grabbed two full-backs even before Pitt lost its first game to Duke by a 28-14 score. They are Paul Chess and Mike Omatic who are at San Diego, Calif., awaiting further orders.

Next to be ordered to report was fullback John Ruser who is slated to don his Marine uniform October 18. He played last week as Pitt was battered 41-7 by Ohio State and is slated to be in the starting lineup as Pitt tangles with Rice institute here tomorrow.

Casanova got the big blow Thursday.

The Marines ordered three of his varsity players to report for duty October 25. They are halfback Jim Campbell, right tackle Bill Gasparovic and left end Chris Warriner.

L-TOWN HANDED 62-0 SETBACK BY OWL ELEVEN

Littlestown high school's football team was completely outclassed as it suffered a 62-0 setback at the hands of the powerful Westminster high eleven Friday night at Westminster.

The Owls scored a pair of touchdowns in the opening period and from then on there was no question as to the outcome as it was apparent that the scrappy Thunderbolts were simply out of their class. The veteran Westminster team outweighed the lower county lads by a considerable margin in the line and backfield.

Lee tallied twice for the Owls in the first period and kicked one extra point while plunging for the other.

Four more Westminster scores came in the second quarter with Settle tallying two six-pointers at the start and Dubost and Bowers accounting for the others.

A pair of touchdowns by Hooper, and one by Schaffer, coupled with a safety charged against the Thunderbolts, finished the scoring for the Owls in the third frame.

Coach Ruby used all of his reserve players, with one exception, for the remainder of the game. The Owls have lost only to Gettysburg this season.

Westminster rolled up 11 first downs to three for Littlestown. The Owls completed three of 14 passes, one of which was intercepted.

Next Thursday night Littlestown journeys to York Springs for a Laurel conference game.

WORLD SERIES MONEY DIVIDED

Cincinnati, Oct. 14 (P)—Winning the World Series was worth $5,737.95 each to 32 members of the New York Yankees baseball club. A. B. Chandler, baseball commissioner, announced yesterday.

The Philadelphia Phils, who dropped four straight series games to the Yanks, also split their winnings into 32 full shares, worth $4,081.34 apiece.

Thirteen other Yankees got partial shares, while nine other Phils received less than a full share.

Walter Mulberry, secretary of baseball, said the shares were "a little on the low side" this year. The Cleveland Indians set the record for a winning team's individual shares with $6,772.05 in 1948.

The three other clubs finishing in the first division in both leagues split their money this way: American league—Detroit Tigers, 31 full shares of $1,042.23 and 11 partial shares; Boston Red Sox, 31 full shares of $736.93 and six partial shares; and Cleveland Indians, 31 full shares of $347.41 and 10 partial shares.

National league—Brooklyn Dodgers, 30 full shares of $1,128.18 each and seven partial shares; New York Giants, 31 full shares of $736.93 and six partial shares; and Boston Braves, 35 full shares of $334.68 and four partial shares.

Louis Planning New Attempt At Title

New York, Oct. 14 (P)—It looks as if Joe Louis is going to keep on fighting until he gets one more shot at his old heavyweight title.

From reliable sources it was learned today that the Brown Bomber is planning a series of big bouts which he hopes will earn him another crack at Champion Ezzard Charles.

If all goes well, the 36-year-old Louis may take on Argentina's Cesar Brion in Chicago in late November or early December, followed swiftly by appearances in Detroit and New York.

In Detroit, his probable opponent would be Lee Oma, the veteran contender from Buffalo.

WORLD SERIES MONEY DIVIDED

Cincinnati, Oct. 14 (AP)—Winning the World Series was worth $5,737.95 each to 32 members of the New York Yankees baseball club. A. B. Chandler, baseball commissioner, announced yesterday.

The Philadelphia Phils, who dropped four straight series games to the Yankees, also split their winnings into 32 full shares, worth $4,081.34 apiece.

Thirteen other Yankees got partial shares, while nine other Phils received less than a full share.

Walter Mulry, secretary of baseball, said the shares were "a little on the low side" this year. The Cleveland Indians set the record for a winning team's individual shares with $6,772.05 in 1948.

The three other clubs finishing in the first division in both leagues split their money this way: American league—Detroit Tigers, 31 full shares of 1,042.23 and 11 partial shares; Boston Red Sox, 31 full shares of $736.93 and six partial shares, and Cleveland Indians, 31 full shares of $347.41 and 10 partial shares.

National league—Brooklyn Dodgers, 30 full shares of $1,128.18 each and seven partial shares; New York Giants, 31 full shares of $736.93 and six partial shares, and Boston Braves, 35 full shares of $334.66 and four partial shares.

Louis Planning New Attempt At Title

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—It looks as if Joe Louis is going to keep on fighting until he gets one more shot at his old heavyweight title.

From reliable sources it was learned today that the Brown Bomber is planning a series of big bouts which he hopes will earn him another crack at Champion Ezzard Charles.

If all goes well, the 36-year-old Louis may take on Argentina's Cesar Brion in Chicago in late November or early December, followed swiftly by appearances in Detroit and New York.

In Detroit, his probable opponent would be Lee Oma, the veteran contender from Buffalo. In New York's Madison Square Garden he might face Rocky Marciano, the undefeated Brockton, Mass., slugger.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—You've heard a lot of blabbing about the money involved in college football, with or without subsidies, and suggestions for de-emphasizing the same. Maybe the talk is true where the real bigtime teams are concerned, but here's another angle. . . . When un-subsidized Sewanee played unbeaten Trinity a couple of weeks ago, the guarantee was $1,500 and the expenses were about three times that much. . . . And it's doubtful whether the gate was $1,500 after all students, faculty members and others had been admitted free. . . .

Next year Trinity has to pay—the word is used advisedly—a return visit for the same guarantee. . . . Trinity isn't exactly unhappy about the situation because it has athletic tradition to uphold and the authorities figure football helps student health and morale—yeah, they play students. . . . The point is that football alone operates at a loss of about $9,000 a season there, not counting the coaches' salaries, and some folks are wondering how much further de-emphasis can be carried.

Word from space grabber Jim Jackson concerning the William and Mary backfield of Ed Magdziak, Ed Mioduszewski, Dick Kovacevich and Paul Jewic. Vito Ragazzo still is top man on the Indians' stem pole, but we also have some poles who can tottem ball.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYE
Harry Markson, the IBC managing director, is getting a chuckle out of a report of an international boxing show in Finland recently in which Russian boxers won 16 decisions in 16 bouts. . . . At least the Finns couldn't be assured of using only house fighters. . . . Bill Putich, who'll quarterback Michigan against Army today, was one of the state's top schoolboy "T" formation quarterbacks. So you can look for Michigan

Hamilton Speaks At Columbus Dinner

Edgar P. Hamilton, Carlisle street, grand knight of the local council of the Knights of Columbus, was a speaker Thursday evening at the annual Columbus Day banquet held by the Waynesboro council of the K of C at Waynesboro.

Columbus' voyage, which led to the discovery of America, was not "a worldly adventure but was made to pave the way for missionaries to bring the faith to the untutored savages," Hamilton declared. He added that "it seems tragic that today the principal nation whose discovery was due to Columbus should fail to recognize the country, Spain, which made possible Columbus' voyage."

CONSOLATION

All of us, at some time or other, seek consolation from many a hurt and deceit that the world may hand out to us. Many a lonely human being has had no one but his dog to whom to turn for this consolation and silent understanding, but most of us prefer that it may come from an understanding fellow creature.

Mothers gain this consolation from the children they have borne, especially when they return love and affection and bring pride to their heart through a useful life. A mother recently wrote me telling of her two boys, who had spent the last day, before leaving for their place in the war, driving with her about the countryside, gaining consolation from the beauty of the autumn, and courage to bear the lonely and tragic days ahead.

There is a certain consolation that a man may even get from his walking stick as he takes his walks and meditates upon life's values, or he may have some hobby that relaxes his spirit and takes him into another world. I have found books to be a wonderful consolation throughout the years. They are forever ready, whereas a friend may not be.

Undoubtedly the greatest consolation to be gained at any time, however, is to be found in religion, in an opening of the heart in prayer and meditation to God. Never has He failed to give it, and to Him have turned the greatest minds of the world, as well as the poorest and humblest, for God is no respecter of persons. To God may every mother go for consolation and hope as she anxiously awaits news from her boy at war, and for every sorrowing mother there is this consolation during her darkest days and nights.

We may all get consolation from the fact that we have done our best, even though we may have failed in what we have undertaken. Upon the burial place of Will Rogers, at Claremore, Oklahoma, are these words of the great humorist: "Live your life so that whenever you lose you are ahead." None of us always wins or loses. There is consolation in that!

Leave it to automobile mechanics to get to the bottom of things.

So Take It Easy

If you are not being able to make your accustomed trips in the same time don't assume you are slipping or that the car is losing its zip. The truth is that many roads are breaking up to a point where they slow you down and result in revising travel schedules. This change in driving condition is a point which too few travelers stop to consider. With the added highway population it is no longer possible to cover familiar routes with the same ease. There also are more traffic lights, and many more danger spots where speeds have to be cut as much as 20 miles an hour. Every new filling station slows down traffic, not to mention highway shops, restaurants and homes. Express routes and toll roads only partially offset these delays, and even these roads are becoming more congested at the very time when everyone expects to get somewhere with the same ease that was experienced 20 years ago.

Apropos Of Battery Time

When there is a suspicion that the voltage or current regulator is in need of attention you and your mechanic will be smart to forget about it for awhile and give some thought to a poor connection at the battery. Lead terminals do not corrode in the normal way but instead scale over with a hard deposit which is even more effective in causing a high resistance. The effect of this is to force the regulator to cut off generator output just as would be the case if the battery were fully charged. When this happens the battery is actually starved for juice and quickly reaches a state of discharge.

Explaining The Stall

Why there should be so much stalling in cars with fluid clutches has been a puzzle to many an observer. It is true that an engine is less likely to stall during the starting process with this type drive, but owners have noted no relief from the annoyance of stalling during idling. The answer lies in the fact that idling speed is more critical than with a conventional clutch and transmission. If this speed is too high there will be a tendency for the car to creep forward a little when standing in traffic without the brake pedal pressed. So to avoid this there is the risk of cutting down idling speed to a point where stalling begins.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

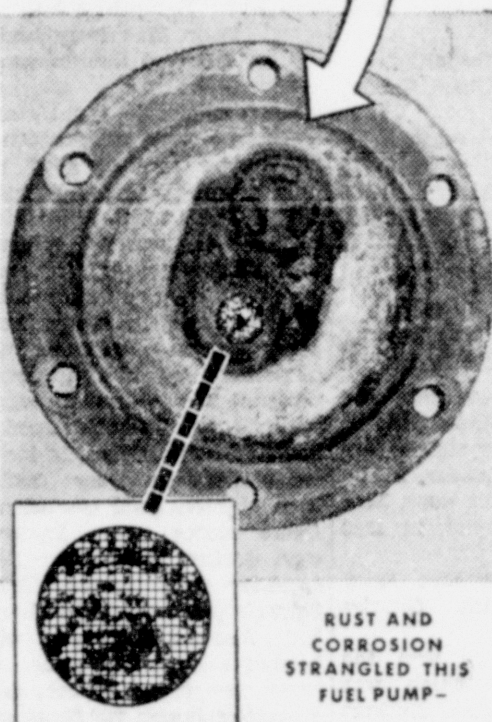

"Tearing things apart before there is a reasonable degree of certainty as to the cause of the car's ailing

is a short cut to trouble. When parts are out of commission it is often more difficult to test them. A good example is the situation with a cylinder head gasket. Various forms of leakage are possible with gasket, but after it is removed from the head it takes a lot of detective work to figure out what was wrong when it was in action. Incidentally, if a gasket is suspected of leaking internally a good test is to introduce compressed air into each cylinder and note if the radiator's water level rises. The car should be in gear with brakes locked during this test."

Why Aren't They Driving?

Something the automobile industry might well look into is why there are more and more people letting their driving licenses expire. Many of them are not old in any sense, a high percentage being women. Engineers have greatly simplified car control through the use of automatic gears, wide vision bodies, ample power and ease of steering, yet too often we meet people who say they no longer drive. It is a real inconvenience to them. Sometimes others in a family may be a little too skillful or, perhaps there was an expensive accident to encourage abandoning the wheel. Perhaps it would help those who feel that

RUST and CORROSION Plug Up Fuel Pump Screens, Carburetor Jets

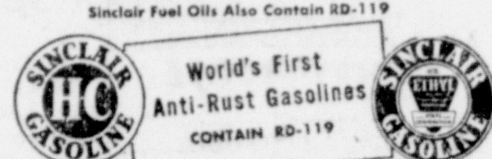

Doc Topping might be you. Hidden rust and corrosion in your car's fuel system can stop your motor by plugging up the tiny screens inside your fuel pump or carburetor. Rust and corrosion also clog carburetor jets, steal power—cause wear and costly repairs.

WHAT CAUSES RUST AND CORROSION? Water forms daily by condensation inside every car's gas tank. This water rusts and corrodes your whole fuel system when you use ordinary gasoline.

Miracle ANTI-RUST Chemical Now Added to POWER-PACKED Sinclair Gasolines

Sinclair Gasolines now contain RD-119, sensational new chemical developed by Sinclair Research. RD-119 coats your gas tank and fuel system with an invisible, waterproof film that stops rust and corrosion. Ask your Sinclair Dealer for new Anti-Rust Sinclair H-C or Ethyl Gasoline. CONSOLATION

All of us, at some time or other, seek consolation from many a hurt and deceit that the world may hand out to us. Many a lonely human being has had no one but his dog to whom to turn for this consolation and silent understanding, but most of us prefer that it may come from an understanding fellow creature.

Mothers gain this consolation from the children they have borne, especially when they return love and affection and bring pride to their heart through a useful life. A mother recently wrote me telling of her two boys, who had spent the last day, before leaving with her place in the war, driving with her about the countryside, gaining consolation from the beauty of the autumn, and courage to bear the lonely and tragic days ahead.

There is a certain consolation that a man may even get from his walking stick as he takes his walks and meditates upon life's values, or he may have some hobby that relaxes his spirit and takes him into another world. I have found books to be a wonderful consolation throughout the years. They are forever ready, whereas a friend may not be.

Undoubtedly the greatest consolation to be gained at any time, however, is to be found in religion, in an opening of the heart in prayer and meditation to God. Never has He failed to give it, and to Him have turned the greatest minds of the world, as well as the poorest and humblest, for God is no respecter of persons. To God may every mother go for consolation and hope as she anxiously awaits news from her boy at war, and for every sorrowing mother there is this consolation during her darkest days and nights.

We may all get consolation from the fact that we have done our best, even though we may have failed in what we have undertaken. Upon the burial place of Will Rogers, at Claremore, Oklahoma, are these words of the great humorist: "Live your life so that whenever you lose you are ahead." None of us always wins or loses. There is consolation in that!

Leave it to automobile mechanics to get to the bottom of things

So Take It Easy

If you are not being able to make your accustomed trips in the same time don't assume you are slipping or that the car is losing its zip. The truth is that many roads are breaking up to a point where they slow you down and result in re-visiting travel schedules. This change in driving condition is a point which too few travelers stop to consider.

With the added highway population it is no longer possible to cover familiar routes with the same ease. There also are more traffic lights, and many more danger spots where speeds have to be cut as much as 20 miles an hour. Every new filling station slows down traffic, not to mention highway shops, restaurants and homes. Express routes and toll roads only partially offset these delays, and even these roads are becoming more congested at the very time when everyone expects to get somewhere with the same ease that was experienced 20 years ago.

Apologies Of Battery Time

When there is a suspicion that the voltage or current regulator is in need of attention you and your mechanic will be smart to forget about it for awhile and give some thought to a poor connection at the battery. Lead terminals do not corrode in the normal way but instead scale over with a hard deposit which is even more effective in causing a high resistance. The effect of this is to force the regulator to cut off generator output just as would be the case if the battery were fully charged. When this happens the battery is actually starved for juice and quickly reaches a state of discharge.

Explaining The Stall

Why there should be so much stalling in cars with fluid clutches has been a puzzle to many an observer. It is true that an engine is less likely to stall during the starting process with this type drive, but owners have noted no relief from the annoyance of stalling during idling. The answer lies in the fact that idling speed is more critical than with a conventional clutch and transmission. If this speed is too high there will be a tendency for the car to creep forward a little when standing in traffic without the brake pedal pressed. So to avoid this there is the risk of cutting down idling speed to a point where stalling begins.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

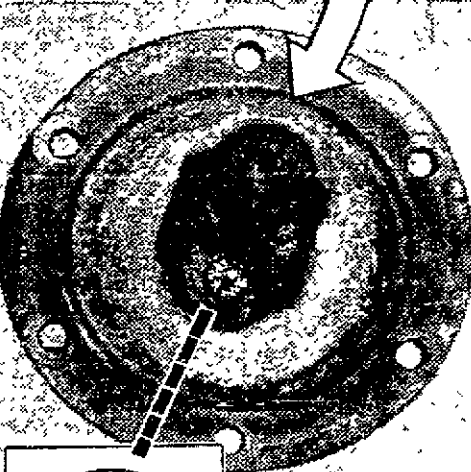

"Tearing things apart before there is a reasonable degree of certainty as to the cause of the car's ailing

is a short cut to trouble. When parts are out of commission it is often more difficult to test them. A good example is the situation with a cylinder head gasket. Various forms of leakage are possible with gasket, but after it is removed from the head it takes a lot of detective work to figure out what was wrong when it was in action. Incidentally, if a gasket is suspected of leaking internally a good test is to introduce compressed air into each cylinder and note if the radiator's water level rises. The car should be in gear with brakes locked during this test."

Why Aren't They Driving?

Something the automobile industry might well look into is why there are more and more people letting their driving licenses expire. Many of them are not old in any sense, a high percentage being women. Engineers have greatly simplified car control through the use of automatic gears, wide vision hoods, ample power and ease of steering, yet too often we meet people who say they no longer drive. It is a real inconvenience to them. Sometimes others in a family may be a little too skillful or, perhaps there was an expensive accident to encourage abandoning the wheel. Perhaps it would help those who feel that

RUST and CORROSION Plug Up Fuel Pump Screens, Carburetor Jets

Doc Topping might be you. Hidden rust and corrosion in your car's fuel system can stop your motor by plugging up the tiny screens inside your fuel pump or carburetor. Rust and corrosion also clog carburetor jets, steal power—cause wear and costly repairs.

WHAT CAUSES RUST AND CORROSION? Water forms daily by condensation inside every car's gas tank. This water rusts and corrodes your whole fuel system when you use ordinary gasoline.

Miracle ANTI-RUST Chemical Now Added to POWER-PACKED Sinclair Gasolines

Sinclair Gasolines now contain RD-119, sensational new chemical developed by Sinclair Research. RD-119 coats your gas tank and fuel system with an invisible, waterproof film that stops rust and corrosion. Ask your Sinclair Dealer for new Anti-Rust Sinclair H-C or Ethyl Gasoline. He received his professional baptism in the summer of 1947, with Director Richard North Gage's Hi-Way theater troupe at Ebensburg. After graduation from F and M in 1948, he accompanied his college director, Darrell Larsen, to the Keene summer theater, Keene, N. H. He joined the Allenberry group last season. Highlights of his work with the Allenberry players included his bombastic "Uncle Cris" in "I Remember Mama," "Mr. Jordan in 'Heaven Can Wait,'" and his "Harry Brock" in "Born Yesterday."

"The Hasty Heart" is the first of three Allenberry plays to be presented here under the auspices of the Exchange club. The second will be the Pennsylvania Dutch comedy, "Fapa Is All," on December 7, and the third the farce, "The Male Animal," on April 26.
Exchange club proceeds from the plays will go toward the cost of the Christmas lights and decorations in Lincoln Square and downtown business streets in December.
Single tickets for each play are $1.50, including tax, and books of three, one for each play, may be purchased for $5, including tax. Seat reservations are now being made at the Bookmart, Chambersburg street.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Whatever happens, including court action, addition of color to the television scene isn't to be any quick process.
Eight million receivers and the 107 operating stations won't be physically able to add tinted images overnight. Even CBS, whose system was out in the final decision as anticipated, will need time to get under way.

Many things are involved. The industry is not generally pleased with the decision. A large part of the CBS system on the principal grounds that its different operating standard was incompatible to black and white and would require special gadgets at the receiver and extra equipment at the transmitter.

Some of their spokesmen have indicated they will be in no hurry to get into color production, intending to go ahead for the time with black and white output. They said color will be more costly due to added components. Many contended color is not yet ready.

the differential gears, but there may be disturbance of the fuel level in the carburetor float bowl.

Sealed beam lights may need replacing, especially if they have been in service for a long time. This is particularly true of the earlier types.

Toward Better Travel

Some interesting things are appearing on the motor market by way of easing the business of travel. One is a small chest of what seem to be drawers which stands in the tonneau. The drawers, however, prove to be small pieces of regular luggage which can be taken into a hotel or left in the car as desired. Then there are the smaller metal drawers which fit under the front seats of several of the popular cars. These hold a variety of travel articles which too often litter the car and are hard to find when needed.

Still Has Its Place

Whether or not to use cornstarch for speeding up the job of waxing the car should not be a problem to the car owner, even though one of the largest manufacturers of car wax urges its dealers not to use this trick. It is true that if the wax is rubbed to a fine polish without the aid of cornstarch or other simple drying agent the finish will be harder and longer lasting. There is keen rivalry among the producers of specialized finishing methods, and naturally the goal is to turn out the best work possible. For the home operator, however, it is quite different. He usually has no electric buffer. Often he is obliged to do the polishing in damp weather. He has limited time. So if he sprinkles a little cornstarch on his polishing cloth and gets a quicker gloss what if he doesn't do a job that isn't professionally as long lasting?

Berlin, Oct. 14 (AP)—Soviet-ruled east Germany holds its first big election tomorrow, but there's no speculation on the results. The voters have only one set of candidates—70 per cent of them Communists.

With no opposition to think about, east Germany's rulers have beaten the propaganda drums to insure a massive turnout, mingling persuasion with stark threats.
